FOREWORD

No person may practice in this State as a Certified Public Accountant or as a Public Accountant unless such person shall be the holder of a certificate, as a Certified Public Accountant or a Public Accountant, issued by the State Board of Accountancy and then in full force and effect under the provisions of the law. All Certified Public Accountants and Public Accountants are required to register annually with the State Board of Accountancy. Failure to register, as required, subjects the holder of the certificate to suspension of the privileges therein contained.

There is no legal distinction between the Certified Public Accountant and the Public Accountant. Both are governed by the same laws and practice under the same rules and regulations and standards of professional conduct and are subject to the same penalties of suspension and revocation of Certificates. The Certified Public Accountant received the Certificate as the result of an examination or by waiver of such examination. The Public Accountant received his Certificate by furnishing satisfactory evidence that he was maintaining an office for the practice of Public Accountancy within the State of Florida in 1927, or was similarly employed at that time.

The Legislature of Florida enacted Chapter 12290, Acts of 1927, regulating the practice of Public Accounting, and allowed the then practicing Accountants to apply for and receive a Certificate of Authority from the State Board of Accountancy to continue to practice as a Public Accountant, but contained the provision that no such Certificate of Authority should be issued subsequent to January 1, 1928.

In 1931 the Legislature passed a new and complete Accountancy measure, retaining the regulatory features of the 1927 Act, and specifically recognizing all certificates of Certified Public Accountants and Public Accountants previously issued. This Act, Chapter 15637, Acts of 1931, together with certain amendments and additions embodied in Chapters 17265, 17266 and 17267, Acts of 1935, constitute the statutes under which the profession of Public Accounting is defined and regulated in the State of Florida, and is printed herein.

The alphabetical lists of Certified Public Accountants and Public Accountants presented herein are those authorized to practice their profession during the year 1942. All other certificate holders have been suspended by the Board.
